FEATURED AUDIO PRODUCT BY DR. KENNETH WAPNICK

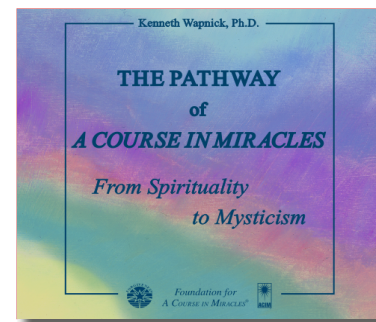

This five-day Atlanta workshop examines A Course in Miracles from the perspective of both spirituality and mysticism, highlighting the process of forgiveness that leads us from mindlessness to mindfulness, and on to Mind. Jesus thus guides us on a journey that undoes the ego strategy of keeping us trapped in mindless bodies so that we never return to the decision-making mind and choose again: love instead of fear, oneness in place of separation. Special topics covered include time, scripts, Jesus, and the history of the Course's scribing and editing—from Helen Schucman's notebooks, through the Urtext, Helen's retypings, the Hugh Lynn Cayce Version, to its eventual publication. Thus the listener has here a presentation of the full spectrum of the Course's teachings—theory and application—as well as a complete discussion of the process whereby A Course in Miracles assumed its final form.

We may believe that we desire peace of mind. We may also believe that the obstacles and conflicts we encounter each day in our lives deprive us of our peace, as we are continually called upon to make judgments about what will best serve our needs and the needs of those we care about. The Course, however, points to our continuously choosing against peace by our mind's conscious and unconscious decisions to remain in conflict, expressed in all of our judgments. Kenneth's teachings, based on the Course's radical metaphysics, can help us to uncover the only cause of our experience of conflict, distress, and lack of peace—our mind's choice to identify with the ego and its thought system of conflict, a choice that is often veiled from our awareness. That ego self thrives on conflict and feels threatened by the mind's power to choose against the ego and for the peace of God. Empowered by this realization, our moment by moment learning goal, chosen more and more of the time, becomes to recognize that our mind's decision for either the ego or the Holy Spirit—and not the events of our lives—determines whether we experience conflict or peace. Forgiveness, a pathway of willingness to learn another way—the releasing of all of our judgments—enables us to choose the Teacher of peace rather than the teacher of conflict, and as a result of this choice experience peace, regardless of what may be happening in our lives.

For the month of March, study materials by Kenneth that can be helpful to students wishing to travel further along the path to peace through forgiveness are available at 25% off and can be found on the following page.

This book consists of a substantial expansion of the discussion in The Obstacles to Peace, first published in 1987. In revising his earlier work, Kenneth has added an extensive introduction and epilogue, and tripled the discussion, including many more references to other passages in the Course. In addition, the old question-and-answer format has been changed to enhance the flow of the material.
