FEATURED AUDIO PRODUCT BY DR. KENNETH WAPNICK

The focus of this workshop is the prose poem, “The Gifts of God,” Helen Schucman’s last scribing from Jesus. This material movingly and expressively provides a summary of the core teachings of A Course in Miracles. Its primary emphasis is on allowing Jesus to help us with our fear, which seems to be connected with something in the world. In this line-by-line commentary, the cause of all fear is explained in the context of our dreaming that we have separated from God and believe we deserve to be punished as a result. The ego’s gift of fear is thus ended in the acceptance of Jesus’ gift of love, which leads us out of the dream and back to God.

Kenneth has suggested, from the Course’s perspective, a correction for the familiar saying, “Love makes the world go round.” “Guilt,” he has said, “makes the world go round.” For without guilt, the Course teaches, there literally would be no world! In our world, love is both sought after and misunderstood. There seem to be different kinds and degrees of love—maternal, filial, romantic, love of country, of nature, and of music, to name a few—with all of us engaged in seeking for love in some form to make us feel loved and complete. Kenneth’s teachings help delineate the difference between the ego’s counterfeit special love—which does come in many kinds, degrees and forms, always sought outside ourselves—and God’s Love, our “natural inheritance,” always present within our mind. Kenneth’s works help the student recognize and identify the barriers we all have placed “to the awareness of love’s presence,” for which we truly yearn.

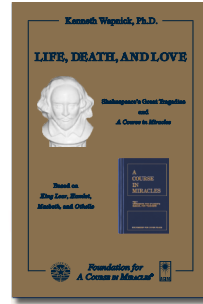

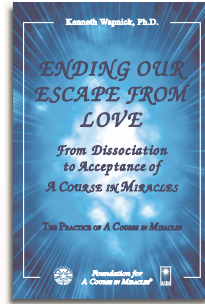

For the month of February, study materials related to the process of undoing the obstacles to the love that is always present are available at 25% off. You will find the sale titles on the following page.
